

History

A.G. Rhodes was one of the first nursing organizations to be licensed in Georgia and is currently one of a few nonprofit nursing organizations in the state. The first of the organization's three locations was constructed in 1904 thanks to the generous donation of land and funds from a prominent Atlanta businessman and community leader, Amos Giles Rhodes. Today, the fifth generation of the A.G. Rhodes family serves on our Boards of Trustees and Advisors. Through the years, the organization has adapted extremely well to the times while remaining true to its roots as a family-oriented operation that serves the larger community.

1875

A.G. Rhodes founds a small furniture company, which later becomes Rhodes Furniture.

1907

Hospital officials ask Mr. Rhodes for funding to make repairs but instead he provides land and funding needed for a new building and location.

1900

Amos Giles Rhodes comes to Atlanta while laying crossties for the L&N Railroad. The Hospital of the Atlanta Circle of the King's Daughters and Sons is founded on Church Street (now Carnegie Way).

Construction is complete and the hospital reopens at its new location at the corner Boulevard and Woodward, where today's flagship home is located.

A LEGACY OF

2021

The Board of Trustees changes the management responsibilities of the organization by creating a nonprofit company to oversee the already established, nonprofit homes.

The organization rebrands to better align with its focus on person-directed care. A.G. Rhodes' core mission hasn't changed but the way it is delivering services has evolved and improved.

2019

After exploring ways to improve its model of care, especially for people living with dementia, A.G. Rhodes enters a partnership with the Eden Alternative to train and educate staff in person-directed care.

2018

Coinciding with it's 120th anniversary in 2024, A.G. Rhodes opened its new skilled nursing and memory care building and renovated the existing building at its Cobb community. Today A.G. Rhodes continues to be a leading provider of long-term care, short-term recovery, and therapy and rehabilitation services for metro Atlanta seniors.

A.G. Rhodes launched its first-ever capital campaign on its Cobb campus to enable A.G. Rhodes to offer even greater skilled nursing and memory care to the Cobb and greater Atlanta communities.

THE CAMPAIGN FOR A.G. RHODES

A.G. Rhodes is nationally recognized for person-directed care, and is becoming increasingly recognized as a thought-leader in effective dementia care.
